Another Record Gone.
We Need A Yata Crow.
Good News for Berlin.
Fortune Tellers' Lore.

—By ARTHUR BRISBANE

THREE CHEERS and gratitude for John Polando and Russell Boardman, who yesterday broke the long distance flying record of the world, landing at Istanbul on the edge of the Bosphorus 49 hours after they left New York.

They flew the Atlantic in and above clouds and fogs, over the whole of Europe, never stopping and settled down in the great Turkish city at the edge of Asia.

LEANDER, NOW somewhere above in a heaven, ought to hear about that flight. He swam the Hellespont every night to visit his lady love. Here was to be crowned when he found the way across in a storm.

We produce good flyers in this country. Polando and Boardman think they might as well keep on going east and come home around the world that way.

IF ONLY WE had a yata crow in this country. It was a bird sent to the congratulations to Jimmu Tenno, first Emperor of Japan, long ago, to guide him when surrounded by enemies he had lost his way.

The Japan Advertiser annual review prints a picture of the yata crow, intelligent looking bird with three legs. The third was tacked on that it might not be confused with other birds.

OUR YATA CROW ought to have about 10 legs to avoid possibilities of mistake, and it would be cheap at $10,000,000,000 if it could really guide us in our national, international and economic wanderings.

YESTERDAY BERLIN heard news more important to them in the long run than any $100,000,000 loan.

Julius Rosenwald of Chicago sent $1,000,000 to establish a Berlin dental clinic for children.

We are what we eat and what we eat depends on our teeth.

MR. ROSENWALD might increase the value of his gift by providing for children improperly nourished, with blood lacking lime content, a sufficient supply of calcium lactate.

Half a spoonful a day, in warm milk or warm water, will protect the teeth from savage Mother Nature.

If you lack lime in your blood, nature will take it from your bones or teeth. Hence the saying that a nursing mother, for each baby, loses one tooth.

FOR FURTHER information about protecting the teeth by calcium lactate, Mr. Rosenwald might consult the distinguished New York physician, Dr. Leopold Stieglitz, whose brother is a professor in the University of Chicago.

THE SOLEMN Smithsonian Institution condescends to notice magicians, soothsayers, clairvoyants and fortune tellers, said to extract more than $100,000,000 a year from the American gullible.

The boldness of predictions made publicly is interesting, the predictor knowing that a coincidence may bring glory, while failure means nothing, the prediction forgotten.

AT A DINNER party recently, entertained by a clairvoyant, Walter Chrysler, automobile man, heard these predictions:

"The Kaiser will die on August 3.

"Our most distinguished aviator (meaning Lindbergh) will meet with an accident in September, serious but not fatal.

"In October Calvin Coolidge will announce his intention to run for the presidency in 1932.

"In November President Hoover will appear before Congress to request a change in the prohibition law."

And for a windup, in December there will be a great earthquake, with great destruction. But it will reveal "a magnificent diamond mine."

WALTER CHRYSLER remarked:

"If he will answer a question about what is going to happen in Wall street, I'll give him enough to buy himself a couple of diamond mines."

To the gullibility of the public there is no limit.

But our capacity to believe what is not true, especially about ourselves, accounts for 90 per cent of our happiness.

MONEY CAN DO a great deal and even help the police of New York to discover the gangsters that shot down five children recently in a "beer war."

The New York American has offered $10,000 for the arrest and conviction of the guilty. Anywhere you can hire a man to commit murder for $5,000 and much less. Some killer might betray his associate to the electric chair for $10,000.

IN THESE BOOTLEG killings and accumulations of large sums, including the open operation of a big brewery in New York, the question is, unfortunately:

"Are the public authorities trying to find the criminals, or engaged in shielding their associates, with whom they divide profit?"

YOU LEARN in this morning's papers what happened to Alphonse Capone, biggest of all "big shots" in the new industry.

Judge Wilkerson, before whom he appeared yesterday, seemed

WORLD RACERS OFF TO SIBERIA

MOSCOW, July 31.—(INS.)—Nine hours behind the time of Post and Gatty, Hugh Herndon, Jr., and Clyde Pangborn, the second team of American round-the-world fliers to visit Moscow within a month, hopped off for an undetermined point in Siberia today at 5:30 p. m. (10:30 a. m. Pittsburgh time).

The airmen stopped in Moscow less than six hours, during which time they attended a luncheon tendered them by the Osoaviatkim, the official Soviet aeronautical organization, while their plane was being refueled. They arrived here today after a night flight from Berlin.

The next scheduled stop of the Miss Veedol plane had been fixed at Irkutsk, on the fliers' original plan, but due to the fact that they were considerably behind the time made by Post and Gatty, whose round-the-world record they hope to break, they had their plane loaded to capacity with fuel and announced they would keep flying as long as possible.

They may attempt to reach Blagovestchensk, on the Sibero-Manchurian border, before they again come to land for fresh supplies of gasoline and oil.

Post and Gatty To Defend Record

LOS ANGELES, July 31.—(INS.)—In the event that Clyde Pangborn and Hugh Herndon, Jr., succeed in breaking the record for spanning the globe, Harold Gatty and Wiley Post will set forth at once to retain their laurels, it was announced here today by F. C. Hall, Oklahoma millionaire, who backed the Post-Gatty flight.

Judge Grants Jury Trial On Tax Charges, Orders Jury to Scan Rum Counts

CHICAGO, July 31.—(AP)—"Scarface Al" Capone was allowed to withdraw his plea of guilty to evasion of income taxes today at an unexpected morning session of court called by Judge James H. Wilkerson.

The court reserved decision however, on the gang lord's motion to change his plea on the indictment for conspiring against the prohibition law, and calling the federal grand jury before him directed it to review the 5,000 offenses cited with a view to reindicting Capone on charges bearing a heavier penalty.

These developments came in the wake of a threat by Senator Schall, of Minnesota, of a congressional investigation of the Capone case.

The gangster has another five weeks of grace before he is arraigned again September 8. At that time Judge Wilkerson will set the income tax cases for trial, probably the last week of September, and will rule on the pleas in the liquor indictments.

Intimation that Capone may ask a change of venue from Judge Wilkerson was given by the gangster's counsel. Attorney Ahern told the judge:

"My client feels that you are prejudiced against him. I do not think so."

Judge Wilkerson replied:

"If he feels that way he could transfer the case to another judge."

INQUIRY ASKED

Senator Schall in Minneapolis said that he would ask the inquiry to determine what arrangement, if any, was made by

Babe Hurls Ice Water, Quells Hotel Fire

BOSTON, July 31.—(INS.)—Babe Ruth, the home run king of baseball, appeared in a new role today—a fire fighter.

He was credited with a putout and an assist, with no runs, no hits, no errors, for the fire department.

Looking from his window on the fifth floor of a hotel the Babe saw an awning blazing on the third floor below. He got to work right away with pitchers of ice water. Between tosses the Babe took time for a telephone call to the hotel office dugout.

George H. Parsons, chief of the hotel battery staff, hastened aloft with a fire extinguisher and assisted the Babe. There was no need for calling firemen.

Only a few of the 200 or more guests in the hotel witnessed the incident, but pedestrians on the street quickly got out of the range of the Babe's slugging fest with the ice water pitcher.

Deputies Battle 100 Miners; Gas Bombs Hurled

More than a dozen persons were slightly injured early today as 25 deputy sheriffs and about 100 striking miners clashed at Cheswick.

Witnesses said the deputies halted two truckloads of strikers bound from New Kensington to the Harmarville mine of the Consumers' Coal Company and hurled tear gas bombs, fired several shots and then clubbed at least 20 of the strikers as they attempted to flee.

DENIES SHOOTING

Chief Deputy B. V. Coffey, who was on the scene, said no shots were fired and denied excessive use of clubs by his deputies.

No one was arrested.

The trouble started when the strikers, who Deputy Coffey said were from Westmoreland County, entered Cheswick on Freeport road. Coffey said the men were noisy and using vile language.

The first truck driven by T. M. Anthony, a former miner now operating a trucking business in Arnold, was halted by the deputies, who ordered the miners to dismount.

When they failed to immediately comply with the order, a tear gas bomb was hurled into the truck, the strikers say.

STRIKERS SEARCHED

The strikers scrambled off and were lined up along the roadside and searched for weapons, they say.

Just then the second truck came along and its occupants, seeing the deputies and their prisoners dismounted and started to run.

A group of deputies, Anthony said, started in pursuit, firing their revolvers in the air and one of them hurling another tear gas bomb.

Order was finally restored and the strikers were sent back to New Kensington.

The Harmarville mine, Deputy Coffey said, has not closed during the strike as its men were satisfied with a "separate agreement" made with the owners.

AIRPORT CHARGE INVESTIGATION LIKELY

McGovern's Allegation of $500,000 Grading 'Gravy' May Lead to Inquiry

County Commissioner Charles C. McGovern's charge, contained in his announcement of his candidacy for re-election yesterday, that more than $500,000 "gravy" had been given the grading contractor working on the new municipal airport is expected to start a new investigation into airport waste and inefficiency in that project.

Mr. McGovern's announcement called the fact that the airport original estimate, on which fixed fee was set at $2,000,000, will require more than $3,500,000 before it is completed.

HUGE GRADING SUM

Of the amount he said $1,250,000 has been spent on grading the contract for which was awarded to the Vang Construction Company.

The minority Commissioner charged that the grading contract was let for 48 cents a cubic yard over other bids of 29 cents. His statement added:

"The company that bid 48 cents then sub-let the contract to others for 29 cents a cubic yard, the amount of the low bid.

"Thus a 'velvet' profit of 19 cents a cubic yard, or a total sum of $531,850, was obtained by the contractor through this action of the other Commissioners."

IGNORE SUB-CONTRACTORS

Questioned about McGovern's charges, Commissioner Joseph G. Armstrong said today:

"I know nothing about Vang's sub-contractors or the prices they bid.

Norman F. Brown, director of public works, under whose supervision the airport construction comes, said:

"I do not know the names of Vang's sub-contractors nor the

LIQUOR GIVEN GIRL OF 12, SHE SAYS

Three Young Women Found Stupefied in West Park With Youths, Police Say

Police raided two alleged moonshine resorts on the North Side this afternoon as city and county authorities began investigation of testimony in Morals Court that liquor had been sold to children and youths.

A two-room shack at 316 Cremo street, invaded by police, yielded 10 pints of moonshine and 37 pints of home brew, they reported. Irvin White, 37, was arrested, charged with keeping a disorderly house.

Lieut. John J. Lynch and squad raided a confectionery store at 3008 Preble avenue, confiscated a small quantity of moonshine and a nickel slot machine and arrested George Sapochnick, accused proprietor, they said. He was released in $1,000 bail.

A 12-year-old Bellevue girl whose name is withheld by the Sun-Telegraph because of her age, told Magistrate T. D. Jones she had been taken to a resort known as "Gunny's Shack," a block from Woods Run Police Station, and drank liquor there.

THREE GIRLS ARRESTED

Three girls and two youths arrested early today in West Park told of drinking liquor purchased nearby.

In the Bellevue girl's case, John White, 50, of 66 Creedy way, alleged to have taken the girl to the speakeasy, was fined $50 or 60 days in the workhouse. He denied compelling the child to accompany him.

District Attorney A. T. Park ordered County Detectives William Black and Michael Stabile to investigate the sale of liquor on the North Side, especially alleged sale of moonshine by confectionery stores.

Safety Director James M. Clark and Police Supt. Peter P. Fagan called Inspector Charles Faulkner before them and ordered [illegible]

Cab Dodging Crash Kills Child on 3-Block Jaunt

The children of John M. Rails, 852 Warrington avenue, today hovered around a tiny white casket in the front room of the home that contained the body of their baby brother, Victor, aged 2, on his first outing away from home, late yesterday in carriage by his brother, Edward, 9, and his sister, Helen, 4. Victor was struck by a taxicab and injured fatally.

The litter had gone to a spring on the hillside above 81 Marion street, they like to say.

Edward described the accident.

"We came down the long steps from the spring and waited on the bottom step for the machines to pass. Mother told us to be very careful with the baby. A taxicab came fast up the road and pulled right up and knocked baby down."

The driver, Charles J. Ross, 163 Oakland court, took the injured child and the other two to St. Josephs Hospital where Victor was pronounced dead from a fractured skull. Police were told Ross swerved to avoid a collision with another machine. He was arrested.

Victor's death marks the first break in the Michalski family. Besides Edward and Helen, there are Henry, 14, Walter, 13, and Daniel, 9.

ACCUSERS FAIL TO FACE POLICE

A showdown has been demanded by Public Safety Director James M. Clark in the case of Patrolmen Thomas J. Healey and Elmer H. Hatscher, accused of beating drunk while investigating a speakeasy in the Meyersdale Apartments last week. The two officers appeared before the police trial board when charges of [illegible] were made against them by Mr. and Mrs. A. Harry Greenlee, who had accused two officers unjustly of being drunk.

Mr. Greenlee, a druggist, failed to appear at the hearing. Director Clark ordered the hearing continued until next Wednesday and said he would issue a subpena for the Greenlees.

Police Lieut. Philip Kimpel testified he had investigated and the Greenlees had denied accusing the officers of being drunk. Kimpel said he had met the officers a short time after the robbery, and that neither was under the influence of liquor.

Mrs. Greenlee interviewed at her apartment, said she had not been notified of the hearing. She further stated that she had not talked to any person interested in the case.

Probe Starts, Lackawanna Treasurer Found Dead

SCRANTON, Pa., July 31.—(AP.)—David G. Price, Lackawanna County treasurer, in whose accounts state and local officials were making a checkup for the past week, was found dead today at noon in his home here.

Price was found dead about an hour after he told members of his family he was going to take a bath.

The tub was filled with water and his body was in it.

Coroner D. J. Jenkins, following a preliminary investigation and examination of the body, stated that death resulted from a heart attack which Price apparently suffered while taking a bath.

For the past several days the accounts of Price were under audit of state and bonding company auditors. County officials had promised to issue a statement later today on the condition of the state and county funds.

Price, who was about 60 years of age, had recently announced himself a candidate for Sheriff.

GUNMEN SCORN POLICE IN CHILD MURDER HUNT

'Shoot to Kill' Order of Chief Amuses Heads of Underworld in New York

By DAVID P. SENTNER
International News Service

NEW YORK, July 31—The underworld today laughed in the face of an aroused citizenry and the police gang war order of "shoot to kill" issued in connection with the wanton machine gun killing of one child and the wounding of four others during an unsuccessful gangster raid.

Suggestive of the method used last Tuesday night at the children's massacre, gunmen shot down and killed Guido Ferreri, 26, clothing manufacturer, today as he talked with a neighbor outside his Brooklyn home and in view of his mother, two sisters and three brothers.

Today, only through the law of chance, no children were hit. As in the case of the children's massacre, the shooting was attributed by police to racketeering.

The latest gang raid came on the heels of a grim declaration by officialdom that the gunman would be exterminated and the "baby-killers" brought in dead or alive.

Eight men were under arrest today picked up during the night for carrying guns. With rewards totaling $25,000 offered for the arrest and conviction of the baby killers, a regiment of detectives scoured the city for five men said to have been named by Tony "Big Tee" Buzzone, a bookmaker, who claims the Little Italy gun battle was an attempt on his life.

Lang Makes Survey of Loss Caused by Moving Machine; Charges Deceit in Permit

Cost of repairing a number of streets in the Squirrel Hill district damaged by a motor digger owned by Vincent Melella, city contractor, will have to be paid by the Master Paving Co., the McDonough & Gillen Company, Public Works Director Lang announced today.

A permit was taken out by McDonough and O'Toole to move a steam shovel but not a ditch digger. The rules of this department are that all ditch diggers must be transported on trailers and not on highways under their own power as are steam shovels. The contractors will be obliged to meet the expense of repairing the streets and hereafter we will not permit the moving of a digger under its own power on city thoroughfares.

HEAT RETAINS GRIP ON CITY

A continuation of the heat wave was predicted by Forecaster W. S. Brotzman today. He said the mercury probably would rise to 91 late this afternoon, the high mark of yesterday. Rain early today brought temporary relief, but at noon the mercury had advanced to 82. By easy stages it reached 86 at 3 o'clock. Little change in temperature is expected tomorrow.

The heat yesterday caused the death of Charles E. Pintz, 38, a laborer, of 314 Sylvania avenue.

Pintz's death, which brought July's heat death total to more than a score, occurred in the South Side Hospital last night after he had collapsed in a Knoxville street car.

HEAT RETAINS BRIAND ILLNESS STIRS ALARM

PARIS, July 31 (AP)—Worn out by the long series of international negotiations, Aristide Briand motored today from his residence in the ministry of foreign affairs to his country home at Cocheril for what was officially termed a few days' rest.

Prof. Vaquez, a noted heart specialist who examined the veteran statesman Wednesday, found his blood pressure extremely high and Briand complained of sleeplessness. The foreign minister is 69 and the strain of international conferences in recent years has begun to tell.

Now he is obliged to operate a severe regimen. The hardest feature of it is the absolute prohibition of cigarets. Briand for years has been an inveterate chain smoker, rolling his own to the extent of 60 a day.

Reveals Tax Office Theft By Repaying Borough

When Tax Collector W. D. Murray of Sewickley left his office for 20 minutes last Monday afternoon, someone entered the room and stole $150 from the cash drawer, it was learned when Mr. Murray reimbursed the borough for the shortage. Mr. Murray said:

"My clerk went out to lunch. I followed about noon. I closed the door, thinking the lock was sprung, but evidently someone fooled with it previously. He took $150 which I keep in the drawer for change. I have repaid the borough for the loss."

TARIFF CHANGE SEEN IN WAGE CUTTING

Administration Leaders Favor Protection Removal For Offending Concerns

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service

WASHINGTON, July 31.—The proposal to reduce tariff rates on the products of any industry slashing wages, gained favor on Capitol Hill today as administration officials moved to prevent a future loss in the earning power of American workmen.

Senator Bingham (Rep.), of Connecticut, a staunch protectionist, suggested the United States tariff commission be directed to review the tariff protection given industries which have slashed wages since passage of the Hawley-Smoot bill. He made the suggestion as a substitute for the plan of Senator Fletcher (Dem.), of Florida, that Congress revise the tariff in conformity with the reduction of wages.

Bingham was reluctant to approve the administration's apparent policy of intervening against wage reductions. He declared only harm would result if the government interfered with the normal conduct of business.

As for the tariff protection given American industry on the principle of maintaining existing wage levels, Bingham added:

"The United States Tariff Commission ought to readjust the duty on any commodity if on investigation it finds that wages have been decreased and the cost of production reduced. If production costs are less on any article than at the time the tariff bill passed while foreign competitive costs have remained unchanged, then naturally the tariff rates on that commodity should be lowered."

FOSTER WARNS OF WAGE CUTS

William Z. Foster, general secretary of the Trade Union Unity League, stressed what he termed the need of immediate action and organization of railroad workers against a threatened wage cut, in an address to railroad men in Walton Hall last night.

He cited present condition of mining and textile workers throughout the country as one that threatens railroad men, and expressed a disbelief in the assertions of railroad union heads that they are against wage cuts and will aid in their prevention.

Foster intends to organize a delegation from the Pittsburgh area to attend the national convention of railroad unions in Chicago August 15 and 16, where the platform of a six-hour day and eight-hour pay, a 26-day month and 30-day pay, introduction of unemployment insurance and abolition of arbitration in settling wage disputes will be presented.

Three Win Honors At Military Camp

Three young men from Pittsburgh have taken honors at the closing of citizens' military training camps. At the graduation exercises at Fort Monroe, Va., yesterday, Roger S. Benton, 7714 Brashear street, was awarded a scholarship to the University of Pittsburgh for outstanding accomplishments during the camp year. George L. Gleeson, 7073 Willard street, and Arthur R. Lloyd were awarded Military Training Camp Association medals for excellence.

Pittsburgh Painter Gets State Auto Job

HARRISBURG, July 31.—(AP)—The repainting of the entire fleet of 1,300 state-owned automobiles, in accordance with instructions of Gov. Pinchot, will be completed within two months, James F. Malone, secretary of property and supplies, said yesterday. About 400 of the cars, all in the Harrisburg district, have already been refinished in buckskin brown and the contract for repainting the cars in Western Pennsylvania has been let to William Murison, Pittsburgh.

Jewish Federation Joins Welfare Fund

The entrance of the Federation of Jewish Philanthropies of Pittsburgh into the membership of the Welfare Fund of Pittsburgh and Allegheny County was announced today. The 17 agencies of the federation bring the total membership of the Welfare Fund to 56.

The combined organizations and the Allegheny County Emergency Association will hold a campaign November 9 to 23 to raise $5,000,000.

UNTOLD TORTURE FROM ECZEMA

Ended quickly by Resinol

"For three months I suffered torture from "weeping eczema," and the many different remedies I tried only gave me slight temporary relief. Finally I decided to try Resinol Ointment. After the first application the itching was relieved and after three days' treatment the whole affected surface was entirely healed. In view of what I had suffered it seems nothing short of a miracle." (Signed) Ella Mokliv, 81 Mt. Auburn St., Watertown, Mass.

The quickness with which Resinol acts in relieving eczema, chafing, rashes, piles, sores, etc., is amazing. Why don't you try it? At all druggists. For free sample, write Resinol, Dept. 87, Baltimore, Md.

History-Making

August Sales

and MARKET OPPORTUNITIES

Beginning Tomorrow

IN the opinion of many, including Babson, Ayres and other recognized economists of the country, prices have touched bottom in many lines, and upward tendencies are noted here and there.

August seems to be the accepted turning point in the situation. To us it appears the great moment for decisive action for those who would get in on the ground floor of present history-making low prices.

And so we have acted swiftly and vigorously with all the resources at our command to turn August's opportunities to the utmost advantage of our customers and the general public.

We have gone far beyond the customary August Sales of Furniture, Furs, and Bedding, into the general market in search of desirable merchandise of every type for immediate and future needs at prices which may not come again in a decade.

We have been highly successful in our quest. August, 1931, is likely to be long remembered as the August of low prices. This is a time for courage and action.

Quality is NOT down—only price. The August opportunities tell their own story more effectively than we can. Every department is in the picture with plenty of examples to prove to you that August prices are down to heretofore unattained lows. Our buyers will continue in the market daily, prepared to take advantage of new values, during this period when manufacturers are especially receptive to spot cash proposals.

Whoopee! That's what it's going to be for 10,000 boys and girls at West View Park next Tuesday. The Sun-Telegraph is giving away—free 10,000 strips of tickets for the National Kiddies' Day celebration ticket for all the rides and amusement devices in the park.

Here's how to get the free tickets. In tomorrow's Sun-Telegraph there will be a coupon printed and each coupon is good for a strip of tickets. With the coupon there will be a list of exchange stations where boys and girls can exchange them for the long strips of tickets all free. Don't miss the coupon in tomorrow's Sun-Telegraph clip as many as you want and get tickets for every youngster in the family.

It's going to be a great day for the kids. There'll be a pie eating contest, a contest for freckle-faced boys and girls. Tampa the radio magician will be there with several bags of mystifying tricks and the Four Aerial Comiques are going to put on a thrilling entertainment.

And it's all free for the youngsters who clip the special Kiddies' Day coupon in tomorrow's Saturday Sun-Telegraph.

'Electric Eye' Aids Uncle Sam Sort Mail Sacks

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., July 31 (AP).—The electric eye has added another labor-saving device to its list of robot operations: the automatic sorting and distributing of mail sacks.

After long experiment, the General Electric, which worked with the Cleveland Crane and Engineering Company of Cleveland in perfecting the device, yesterday announced the mechanism practicable.

An arrangement of photo-electric relays is the basis of the sorting. On each mail-bag conveyor are a photoelectric relay and solenoid mechanism. A photoelectric tube, when actuated by a beam of light, causes the relay to release the mail sack at the proper destination.

OPPOSES VOTE MACHINE DELAY

If voting machines are not delivered—and they will soon have to start arriving by the trainload to be here on time—County Commissioner Charles C. McGovern will strenuously oppose any move to give the Poole Engineering and Machine Company more time and will try to have their bond forfeited, he said yesterday.

McGovern declared:

"If they don't deliver 1,100 machines here August 15 and the Commissioners try to pass a resolution, as they probably will, to give them more time, I will oppose it and demand forfeiture of their bond."

PHILADELPHIA, July 31.—(AP.)—George F. Holmes, chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, announced that the first 19 wards of Philadelphia would be equipped with voting machines for the September primary election.

WILL ROGERS SAYS

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., July 31.

To the Editor, Sun-Telegraph:

I been getting some papers sent to me from up in the Northwest, and I am telling you, from the pictures, these grasshoppers have laid that country lower than the Farm Board. They just swarm onto a place like farmers at a free barbecue, and leave about as little. There is one thing to be said for the grasshopper: he has generally operated in Republican territory. Kansas has been ruined by 'em as often as by their politicians. So that's why the Democrats have never paid the bugs much attention, in fact kinder urged 'em on. But they never even prayed for anything like this to happen. Yours, WILL.

PRECEDENT SET IN ACTION OF COURT

June Jurors Recalled by Judge Dispose of Cases Otherwise Off Until Fall

Six men, who had been sweltering in jail on groundless charges, were set free at 5 p. m. yesterday by Judge James H. Gray, who had kept Criminal Court in session an hour later than the usual adjournment time, after the charges against them had been ignored by the grand jury.

Eight other cases were ignored by the jury, 14 in all but one of these had succeeded in raising bail, another had not been apprehended and the others had to be detained because of other charges against them.

PRECEDENTS SET

The court action set several precedents in Allegheny County's administration of criminal justice.

In excusing the grand jury Judge Gray said:

"I want to commend you for this day's work. It certainly was a busy one for you. Your findings prove that there were sufficient grounds to warrant the calling of you for today's session, and the 14 persons against who you found insufficient evidence will be released at once. You have ignored the stifling heat to perform a public duty most notably."

The jury was excused instead of being discharged, the Judge telling the members that if it is found necessary to reconvene them in August, they would be given ample notice.

PRECEDENTS BROKEN

For the first time in history, the June grand jury was recalled to sit in July so that if any groundless charges were found the prisoners could be released.

When the grand jury assembled yesterday morning it found 136 cases awaiting action.

The witness room was jammed by more than 500 witnesses, about four being called in each case.

Despite the sweltering heat the grand jury set out for a record, and made it just before regular adjournment time at 4 p. m.

The jury finally returned 122 true bills and ignored 14. It was the largest day's work ever accomplished by a grand jury in this county.

$600,000 GOAL OF CAMPAIGN FOR AGED

Priests Assemble to Select Leaders; Bishop Boyle Scheduled to Preside

Nearly 500 priests from all parts of the Pittsburgh Diocese were to meet today in Synod Hall to further plans for a campaign to raise $600,000 for the rebuilding and complete fireproofing of the Little Sisters of the Poor Home for the Aged. The campaign will be held August 16 to 23, the Rt. Rev. Hugh C. Boyle, bishop of the diocese, announced.

The death toll in the fire which swept through the home last Friday night reached 44 early today when Miss Bridgett Dooley, 70, died of pneumonia and shock in Pittsburgh Hospital, according to a report to the county morgue.

Headquarters for the campaign was to be established at today's meeting and a general chairman and committee of 10 priests chosen. Bishop Boyle was to preside.

WIDE APPEAL PLANNED

A pastoral letter in line with the campaign will be issued by Bishop Boyle and sent to pastors and individuals throughout the diocese early next week. The soliciting will be handled by the pastor of each parish, assisted by a committee. Contributions will be urged from everyone financially able, notwithstanding church affiliations, Bishop Boyle said.

The results of conferences with engineers and city safety representatives will decide whether the old building will be rebuilt or a complete new one erected, Bishop Boyle said.

Speaking of the fire which claimed the lives of 44 inmates of the home, Bishop Boyle said that during the last 48 years there has not been a fire in any of the 53 institutions conducted by the Little Sisters of the Poor, with the exception of the conflagration which ruined a large portion of Nashville, Tenn., 20 years ago. At that time, the sisters had sufficient warning and there were no fatalities among the inmates.

PRECAUTIONS TAKEN

No charitable institutions have been erected by the diocese since fireproofing methods became a reality, he said, but precautions have been taken against fire. The investigation of other institutions in the diocese will proceed when the campaign has been launched, he said.

A pontifical high mass will be celebrated Monday at 10 a. m. in St. Paul's Cathedral by Bishop Boyle for the victims of the catastrophe.

MACHINE ORDER FACES TEST

BETHLEHEM, Pa., July 31.—(AP.)—After a conference with Attorney General William A. Schnader at Harrisburg, F. E. Walter, solicitor of Northampton County, said he would contest the jurisdiction of the Dauphin County Court in mandamus proceedings instituted by the Attorney General to compel county commissioners to install voting machines in the Northampton County wards of this city for the primary elections in September.

If the Court overrules his contention that it is without jurisdiction in the mandamus proceedings, Walter will appeal to the Supreme Court which will not meet before the primary, and thus delay the installation of the machines.

Musmanno to Speak At Pythian Meet

Success Lodge No. 275, Knights of Pythias, of McKeesport, will inaugurate next Monday night a series of open meetings with the co-operation of other Pythian lodges in the Pythian Castle Hall, Ninth and Market streets. Representative M. A. Musmanno, candidate for Judge of County Court, will be principal speaker, and Armin Frieseman, chancellor commander of Success Lodge, will preside.

FEUD DENIED IN SHOOTING

Questioning of Frank White, 26, of 605 Larimer avenue, in connection with the shooting early yesterday of Fred H. Vance, 31, of North Negley avenue at Larimer avenue and Meadow street, contradicted the early theory of police that Vance was a victim of a racket feud.

White told police, they said, that he had fired a revolver accidentally while arguing with his estranged wife, Thelma, in an automobile near where Vance was standing. Vance, also known as Vallalla, was shot twice while talking to Patrolman Harvey Connors. He was reported improving in Pittsburgh Hospital.

Wife Nagged, Man's Divorce Suit Says

His wife nagged him so much at home that he slept in his shop, John A. Strathearn, 430 Camp avenue, Braddock, declared in his divorce suit against Helen W. Strathearn, of Wilkinsburg, in Common Pleas Court.

They were married June 1, 1919, and from 1920 on she continually interfered with his business and nagged him, he said. She was granted $10 a week alimony on her petition asserting his income was $7,000 annually from his printing business.

Gas Gusher Struck In New N. Y. Field

The well is located on the farm of G. Archie Turner. The greatest gas field developed during the recent boom in the southern tier and Northern Pennsylvania is the Wayne-Tyrone-Dundee district, 20 miles to the northwest of the Turner farm.

Fire Sweeps Huge Oil Storage Tank

BROKERS SUED IN STOCK LOSS

Seeking return of $182,000, the Pennsylvania Department of Banking has filed suit in Common Pleas Court against S. M. Vockel & Co., Pittsburgh brokers.

The sum, the suit alleges, was spent by Ralph E. Matthews, secretary and treasurer of the Dollar Title and Trust Company, closed last November, with the brokerage firm for the purchase of stocks. Matthews confessed embezzlement of the bank's funds and is now serving a sentence in Western Penitentiary.

The Banking Department alleges that the brokerage firm had constructive knowledge that Matthews was using the bank's funds.

Watering Trough Dedication Today

In co-operation with the George Bills estate of Sydney, Australia, the Western Pennsylvania Humane Society today will dedicate a concrete water trough for horses who toil in the vicinity of Nineteenth and Pike streets. The trough, bearing a brass plate in memory of Bills is constructed of concrete, its cost being shared equally by the Humane Society and the Bills estate.

Lindy's Flight No One-Sandwich Affair This Time

—By ARTHUR 'BUGS' BAER—

Lindy is off again, but it's not a one-sandwich hop.

Mrs. Lindy will pack the picnic lunch this time.

It will be a full hamper. And 'way down at the bottom we bet there are pickles and cookies for emergencies.

Don't think Mrs. Lindy is going to be a backseat driver. She's the radio engineer. Lindy isn't after any records this time. He is just going to loaf around the world at 200 miles an hour.

A pair of our aces landed in Istanbul, and even the Turks admit that's a good hand. Boardman and Polando qualified for the confetti blizzard by hopping 5,000 miles.

That's plenty. The former record was held by a Texas grasshopper leaving for Kansas.

The boys had a new reason for coming down. They didn't run out of gasoline. They ran out of map.

They got the perfect reception in Turkey. It must be glorious for an aviator to hear 50,000 people all talking at once and not be able to understand them.

LONG DELIVERY ON GLASS ORDER

The order of 1,000,000 square feet of plate glass for the building of Radio City in New York, awarded yesterday to the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, will be executed over a period of several years, according to reports at the Pittsburgh office.

Delay will be called for some time as the work of razing old buildings in New York to make room for the Radio City was just beginning. The order, said to be the largest ever placed for window glass, keeps steady operation of the company's plants at Ford City and Creighton. It is believed the work will be turned over to plants at Kokomo, Ind., and Ottawa, Ill., as well as to plants at Pittsburgh.

FIREMAN SAVES CHILDREN IN AUTO'S PATH

Hailed as Hero When He Sweeps Charges to Safety As Driver Ignores Signal

Neighbors and his fellow firemen today praised Fireman Andrew Smith for his alertness in saving several children from injury and possable death at Madison avenue and Foreland street, yesterday.

Smith swept the children from beneath a water spray when he saw a recklessly-driven automobile rushing toward them. With outstretched arms he pushed the children onto the sidewalk as the automobile sped by.

Detailed to direct traffic at the intersection because of the shower, Smith told police the driver ignored his signal to halt. Police had the license number of the car and were searching for the owner.

MINE OWNERS FAVOR PARLEY

Half of the number of coal operators invited to attend President Hoover's proposed coal conference have signified their intention of attending, in the event he decides to call one, it was learned today.

Included in the list favoring a meeting between operators and United Mine Workers' officials are some of the leaders of the industry, it was understood. A number refused however, to state publicly their attitude, preferring to await the meeting and state their opinion there.

A number of independent operators feel, however, that this is the time to face the unemployment issue and mechanization of the mines and over the table in Washington put it up to the union chiefs to promise cooperation, cessation of strikes, arbitration boards to settle their difficulties and a distribution of employment among the miners, many of whom feel that mechanization of the mines is the fundamental evil. The union chiefs on the other hand, will stabilize the industry.

Regular Courses Given During June, July

A project that probably will be of interest to members of Pittsburgh's various women's clubs and organizations, was inaugurated by Mrs. R. F. Lindsay, of Mt. Pleasant, president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs. And the project was a summer institute for women, held at the Texas State College for Women at Denton, Tex., during the months of June and July.

Civic, professional and social organizations in the state of Texas and throughout the Southwest have professed great interest in the affair.

The club women, married women and rural leaders and college graduates were enabled to enroll in regulation college courses without the restrictions that usually attends enrollment in that type of work. There were no college entrance requirements, and there were two terms of three weeks each, with lectures, class discussions and assigned reading in the college library without registration routine or final examinations. Each student was free to select the courses and number of courses and amount of work in each that she wished, and the program included 58 courses representing practically every department in the college. The nominal fee was $2 a course or three or four courses for $5. Plays, concerts and recitals added to the attractiveness of the course, and the large membership proved the success of the experiment.

Lena Phillips Re-Elected International B. P. W. Head

VIENNA, July 31.—(AP.)—The International Federation of Business and Professional Women closed its first session yesterday after two days devoted to the discussion of the amelioration of the unemployment situation and other world problems.

The principal speaker on unemployment was Dr. Hilda Oppenheimer, of the Berlin labor ministry, who suggested that voluntary international division of production might help relieve the basic causes of joblessness.

The problem is also psychological, she said, for idle workmen have a feeling that "they are superfluous in the world," and forget how to work in course of time.

Mme. Plamnikova, Czechoslovakian senator, urged improvement of working conditions, declaring that women in Czech shoe factories are forced to stand on one foot eight hours a day tending a machine.

Lena Madesin Phillips, American lawyer and present president of the congress, was unanimously re-elected.

FASHIONABLE WOMEN PREFER CHARMING PRINTED FROCKS

(Copyright, 1931, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Paris Bureau of Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph

PARIS, July 31.—You cannot keep a smart woman out of print. And so wherever she goes, there is a print frock. Whether the occasion be during the day or evening, it is rather nice that there is a print season, a print season since it gives us a chance to observe the points of very great likes and dislikes we see. At first it was thought that prints had been declared taboo, but many women insisted on a figured frock, and so prints every [illegible] house has [illegible] and [illegible] admirably cool looking and this is half the battle in warm weather.

One sees many large prints this season, but the colorful variety of small, small and medium-sized floral patterns and dainty spot designs are excellent. The checked and striped checkered designs are of course always with us.

TODAY'S SKETCHES show very smart examples of a print for day and another one for evening wear. The afternoon frock is in white crepe de chine with a leopard spot design in dark brown. It is by Picheme et Gaston. The waistline is defined by straps of stitching at front and back, held down by vertical inset panels extending up from the skirt, two in front and two in back. The lower part of the skirt is formed by a circular flounce made up of alternate [illegible] spaced godets. The scarf, knotted at one shoulder, forms an elongated pointed yoke in front.

THE EVENING dress is of printed chiffon with a design of medium-sized flowers in shades of red, orange and beige. The deep off-the-shoulder bertha is organza and becoming. Two narrow ruffles encircle the skirt midway between the waistline and the hem. Below the ruffles the skirt flares markedly and just clears the floor.

Few Foods Exceed Fish in Nutritive Value

Dr. Copeland heartily recommends this food and says it would be more popular if intelligently prepared and recommends baking in glass oven proof dishes.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
Former Health Commissioner of New York City, United States Senator from New York

There is an old superstition that the eating of fish gives increased mental power. Fish is popularly thought to be a brain food.

In spite of the [illegible] well seasoned and served in a tempting manner this is indeed a pleasing dish.

Baking is one of the simplest methods of preparation and there is no doubt that in this form it tempts both eye and appetite. The baking may be done in a variety of ways but it is best to use glass oven proof dishes.

Where it is not possible to purchase fresh fish canned fish may be substituted. The canning of fish has become a great industry. Many different kinds may be purchased. Sardines and salmon are the most commonly bought.

I cannot help mentioning the ease and completeness of the digestion of fish. The nutritive value of fish is exceeded by few other foods.

For Finding the Best Bargains Offered by Advertisers in the Sun-Telegraph

Here's the Idea . . .

You know that the advertising announcements in the Sun-Telegraph are teeming with bargains.

What are these bargains? What are they finding? Why, in your mind, are they bargains? Within a day or two you have undoubtedly made purchases from the advertisers who are in the columns of the Sun-Telegraph and you had a special reason for buying their particular goods. Something in particular drew your attention to their bargains. What was it—the price, the quality or both?

You are shopping every day. Let's make it double profitable to you. Since the advertising announcements in the Sun-Telegraph are what you really need, examine the goods offered. If the article or articles are something that you need and the price is satisfactory, make your purchase and then tell the "What and Why" Editor of the Sun-Telegraph why you made the purchase.

Confine your letter to 100 words or less. Tell in your own way why you think the article you purchased was a bargain at the price you paid for it, but bear in mind that the article you refer to must have appeared in the advertising announcements in the Sun-Telegraph. The purchase ticket must accompany your letter and the date the announcement appeared in the newspaper.

Telegraph and your letter must mention the day and date the announcement appeared and be accompanied by the sales slip given to you at the time of purchase. Address your bargain letters to the "What and Why" Editor, The Sun-Telegraph, Pittsburgh, Pa. They should be written and mailed not later than 24 hours after the purchase has been made.

Third Best Letter	3.00

Five Next Best Letters, each $1.00	5.00

(1) Cash prizes will be awarded for the best "What and Why" bargain letters.

See List of Prizes Above

(2) The names of winners will be announced in the Sun-Telegraph one week later from the day the bargain announcement was made in this newspaper. This means that there should be no delay in sending in your contest letters and sales slips.

(3) Employees of the Sun-Telegraph or members of their families are not eligible for entry. In cases where the judges decide that letters are of equal merit duplicate awards will be made. All letters submitted automatically become property of the Sun-Telegraph, with the right to use them as this newspaper may so determine. No correspondence pertaining to the contest will be answered. The "What and Why" bargain letter contest will run for two weeks—or longer, at the option of the Sun-Telegraph.

READ THESE SIMPLE RULES:

(1) The "What and Why" contest is sponsored by the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph and has ongoing features to purchase when there are not need but with the idea in mind of emphasizing the fact that the counters in the Pittsburgh stores are today filled with real bargains. The Sun-Telegraph knows that many readers of this newspaper will take advantage of these rare offers as they are announced in this newspaper and is anxious to tell all readers about these bargains now that there are bargains. The purchase price of the article does not enter into the rules of the contest. You may find a bargain for a penny—the price. But if you find a bargain tell us what it is and why in a letter of less than 100 words.

(2) The bargain must have been announced in the DISPLAY advertising of the daily or Sunday Sun-

in the Sun-Telegraph, look for what you need, examine the goods offered, and if you think you have found a bargain, tell the Sun-Telegraph about it.

chopped onion, 1 chopped pepper, 1 teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper and a few grains of paprika. Grease a loaf pan and put in one-half the above mixture, then a layer of sardines, so that no air spaces are present. Then place one pimento cut into strips on the meat. Continue and cover with the remainder of the meat mixture. Bake in a hot oven 40 minutes. Turn out on a hot platter and serve with tomato sauce made with the drippings in the pan instead of butter.

BAKED CORN AND TOMATOES. Either canned corn or cooked fresh corn cut from the cob may be used. To 2 cups corn and 2 cups tomatoes, using either canned or fresh tomatoes, cut up, season with 1 teaspoon salt, a few grains pepper and 1 teaspoon sugar. Mix and pour into a greased baking dish. Spread 1 cup fresh bread crumbs over the top and dot with 3 tablespoons butter. Bake 30 minutes in a moderate oven.

JAPANESE EGGS. One-half cup shrimps, 1½ cups milk, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon celery salt, 4 green pepper rings, 2 tablespoons flour, 3 tablespoons melted butter, 1 cup fried mushrooms, 4 eggs, 4 slices toast.

Cook rice in boiling water until tender. While rice is cooking make white sauce of milk, flour and one tablespoon butter. Brown mushrooms and onion in remaining butter and add to white sauce. Add shrimps and seasonings.

When rice is done drain, form into molds by pressing into measuring cup up to ½ cup mark. Unmold on hot platter, place a slice of tomato on each mold. Poach eggs, place a poached egg on each mold, pour hot sauce around, garnish with pepper rings and serve. Serves four.

HAM A LA KING. Two cups diced cooked ham, 1½ cups water, 1½ cups milk, evaporated, 2 tablespoons flour, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, ½ teaspoon celery salt, 1½ cups sauteed mushrooms, 2 egg yolks, 1 tablespoon diced green pepper, ½ cup pimento cut in strips.

Put water, milk, egg yolks and seasonings into a mixing bowl. Melt the butter and flour, cook until clear. Add to the liquid when the simmering point has been reached. Mix well, cook 2 minutes and the diced ham, green pepper and mushrooms and lastly the pimentos. Serve on toast. Sufficient for six or eight.

SALMON LOAF WITH EGG SAUCE. Two cups salmon flaked, 1¼ cups grated cheese, 1 egg well beaten, 3 tablespoons milk, 1 tablespoon melted butter, ½ teaspoon salt, pepper, bread crumbs.

Combine ingredients, using crumbs enough to obtain stiff mixture. Shape in loaf in baking pan. Cover with buttered crumbs and bake in 375 oven until golden brown. Garnish with watercress and sliced stuffed olives and serve with an egg sauce.

TOASTED ROLLS WITH ORANGE MARMALADE. Select 8 dozen small round fresh rolls. Break, but do not cut, them in half. Dot generously with butter, the broken surfaces and brown the rolls quickly in the broiling oven. Just before serving, spread with cream cheese and over this a layer of orange marmalade. These are so delicious that the serving plate will need replenishing several times at least.

FANCY FRENCH CAKE.—Cream ¾ cup butter, gradually add a cup of sugar, working it in thoroughly. Add the well-beaten yolks of 5 eggs, and then dry ingredients sifted together, 1½ cups flour, a teaspoon baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt. Lastly add ½ teaspoon vanilla. Beat the egg whites stiff and fold gently into the mixture. Drop the batter in small muffin tins or individual fancy-shaped pans. Bake in a 350 to 375 degree oven for 20 minutes. Or, if you find it easier, bake in a shallow pan and cut into the chosen shapes when cool. Cover sides and top with rich confectioners icing, using cream for the moisture.

I particularly like to spread the sides of these quaintly shaped cakes with chocolate icing and roll them in coconut. Then I decorate the tops with chocolate icing that has been put through a pastry tube, or with a maraschino cherry. Or I cut a slice off the top of little cakes that have been baked in muffin tins, remove a very small portion of the center and fill it with lemon honey or lemon jelly. Replace the tops, and spread with icing.

SPAGHETTI WITH PEANUT BUTTER SAUCE. It's perfectly delicious and has the added inducement of being a novel combination. Put a package of spaghetti in a saucepan, cover with boiling water and boil gently, uncovered, until spaghetti is tender but not too soft, adding a teaspoonful of salt while boiling. Drain, place in baking dish, add peanut butter sauce, cover with buttered crumbs and bake 10 to 15 minutes.

Peanut Butter Sauce: Melt 2 tablespoons butter, add 2 tablespoons flour, ½ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, stir until smooth, then add 2 cups milk gradually and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add 2 tablespoons peanut butter and remove from heat.

CREAMED CELERY. 1½ cups diced celery, 1 teaspoon salt, 4 cups water, 3 tablespoons butter, 4 tablespoons flour, 1 cup milk, ½ teaspoon paprika.

Mix celery, salt and water. Cover and cook slowly 20 minutes. Drain and reserve 1 cup of liquid (celery stock). Melt butter and add flour. Blend and add milk and liquid. Cook until creamy sauce forms. Stir constantly. Add cooked celery and paprika. Cook one minute and serve.

MAPLE LEAF SANDWICHES. These sandwiches may be made with graham, white or whole-wheat bread cut in maple-leaf shapes. The filling is a combination of 1 part chopped nuts to 2 parts powdered sugar, blended with enough creamed butter to spread easily. Flavor with maple extract. Cinnamon extract may be substituted.

ADD HEALTH TO HOT BREADS

Hot breads are tempting. But often they lack roughage. The absence of bulk from food often results in constipation.

But now you can have hot breads and A roughage. Simply add a cupful of Kellogg's All-Bran to the recipe. This delicious cereal furnishes the bulk needed to assure proper elimination. You will find many appetizing recipes on the red-and-green All-Bran package.

Equally tempting as a ready-to-eat cereal with milk or cream. Two tablespoonfuls daily are guaranteed to prevent and relieve both temporary and recurring constipation. In severe cases, use with bran meal.

All-Bran also furnishes needed iron for the blood. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

In most cases where parents are unrelenting in their disapproval of the one their son or daughter loves it is usually because they imagine that person incapable of improving.

Yet how unpromising have been the beginnings of many great and worthy persons.

On the other hand, how readily ambitious parents overlook glaring faults of character where riches and social connections are concerned.

How many parents would have approved of Lindy while he was still a barn-storming stunt flier?

Even where parents are so bitter about a difference of religion, I think it a mistake.

It is my belief that a good character and a kind heart are the true religion which God approves of under any and all denominational callings.

The Beauty Box

By HELEN FOLLETT

During the summer season elbows have a bad time. If they assume a valley-greenery tone as sometimes happens, rub them with a cut lemon. After the elbow treatment dip the finger nails into the lemon pulp. The acid will bleach the nail cuties in a jiffy. Rough elbows will smooth out if anointed with cold cream with an after powdering of a mond meal.

Beautytoriums offer a variety of polishes for the finger nails. They come in the form of solids, powder, creams and liquids. When the hands are subjected to the ravages of strong cleaning agents, the nails lose their natural luster and polishing with even the best of preparations is difficult. So guard the pink shells against agents of destruction.

When the scalp perspires profusely, sending fountain streams down the forehead, sponge the scalp with a weak solution of boric acid: one teaspoonful of boric crystals to a pint of boiling water. Part the hair here and there, trickle on the solution with a medicine dropper, frictioning the scalp afterwards with light movements of the fingers.

Run over heels are one cause of weak ankles. They will in time deform the feet. Narrow shoes and short shoes can produce every foot ill in the whole miserable list of bunions, hammer toes, callosities, ingrowing nails, spiked heels not only thin sacred functions, but pot-vaults and curves in the spinal column and contract the chest.

We Now Present

By Howard L. Browning, Jr.

Mr. White

Gov. George S. White, of Ohio, will be the principal speaker at the formal dedication ceremonies of the Perry Victory Memorial Put-In-Bay, O., over WCAE at 5:45. Senator Ham Lewis of Illinois and other interesting figures will take part in the ceremonies whether you listen to them or not.

"Clap Yo' Hands" and "Silver Moon" are about as much alike, a radio announcer and a shrinking violet, but they're the two Jessica Dragonette numbers we're going to like best tonight, at 8 p. m., WCAE.

Vaughn de Leath, incidentally, is to take her place while she vacations the first three August Fridays.

There's a new program on KDKA tonight, at 8:30, featuring an unknown narrator with backstage tales. Milton Lomack, concertmaster of the Pittsburgh Symphony, will be solo violinist.

If Lee Wiley knows how to sing the blues — and he does — "Washboard Blues" will be the best number on WCAE between 9:30 and 10 p. m. Listen to it and get a backache.

Cab Calloway will give you all the best in Negro jazz when he puts his heart into it on KDKA at 6 p. m. Dick Powell's to be on hand.

Toscha Seidel's to give you three numbers from "Show Boat" and "Lover, Come Back to Me." The stub pen of the Negro composer Burleigh is responsible for "Were I a Star," which Theo Karle'll sing on WJAS.

Paul Whiteman brings us four medleys over KDKA tonight, three of which should be sweet. They're of tunes from "Band Wagon," "Crazy Quilt," "Third Little Show," "Ziegfeld Follies." We could do without the "Follies" medley, if the music's no better than it was in Pittsburgh.

Do you like Ramona's Gaucho Rumba Band on KQV at 10 p. m.? And the Schenley Trio, on WWSW at 6:30?

Piano playing isn't a hard job. Late hours, sure; a little study, practicing, yes; but not like digging ditches, or keeping red ink wells filled in a steel plant.

Ralph Federer has been at it for some time, over WCAE. Entertaining people, making them happy. It can't be overwork that's caused Doctor to tell him to rest for a while. How can anybody overwork at entertaining people?

Wonder what he'll think during the two farewell parties WCAE's throwing for him? Whether he'll grin, or sob?

The first, at 11 p. m., will be on the Riggs and Moke time; he'll be introduced by pretty Betty. He'll play until he thinks you're tired. Not, you see, only until he's tired.

The second will be at 12:15 p. m. tomorrow, when Federer'll go on the air for the last time before his rest in company with as many of the artists who have played with him as possible. It'll be a big round-up. As the last number, a good-bye to Pittsburgh and the curtain raiser, we hope, on a

Wife Says Spouse Wed, Wins Divorce

GREENSBURG, Pa., July 31.—Mrs. Sara Rummel, of Renton, Allegheny County, found that her husband of one month, George T. Rummel, was not divorced from his first wife, she testified before her divorce decree was handed down here.

Youngwood Child Drowns in Pool

GREENSBURG, July 31.—AP—Pearl Staschak, 10, drowned last night while bathing in an old stone quarry pool near the Youngwood Fair Grounds.

The Loud Speaker By Louis Reid

NEW YORK, July 31.—Were we called by a Senate investigating committee to name under oath the most significant aspect of broadcasting today we would answer in one short word. Talk.

We would feel compelled to tell the Senators that truly tidal wave of words was pouring out of the loudspeakers, challenging not only the supremacy of jazz but engulfing the old and most revered masters of music, the hitherto pre-eminent tenors and voice-trilling sopranos. And we would have to add that a heavy portion of the talk comes from the Senators themselves.

Washington is continuously on the air. The Great White Father, himself, is even more radio minded than the good Calvin, and the latter was thought to have set a microphonic record for talk that would stand for all time. Members of his cabinet are heard regularly. Most of the Senators have spoken to the nation time and time again.

All of them are earnest, and most of them are convincing. They may not bring the fire of debate to the air, but at least they show a desire to hold—when they catch—the eardrums. They have laid aside, probably forever, the old-fashioned oratory, have rid themselves largely of the barnacles of bunk. Though they are inclined to pull their punches, they at least are brief and informative. And that is something. We can thank radio.

Borah doesn't come often to the microphone. When he does he is by far the ablest speaker. Some of his colleagues speak with well modulated voices appropriate to the loudspeaker—namely Vandenberg, Walsh, of Massachusetts; Pat Harrison, and, of course, the long radio-practiced Copeland. But where is the booming voice of Joe T. Robinson? And where, too, is the bark of Barkley? Voices that come up like thunder. Nor is Morrow ever heard and so much was expected of him in the parlors. Johnson talks occasionally, talks with the speed and force of a machine-gun.

Radio has improved the oratorical style of the Senate. Even Fess proved as the referee of spelling bees that he no longer need be dull. None of Washington's high-placed finds time for humor, for anecdote. Radio is considered seriously. And among those who take it with special seriousness is New York's junior Senator, Robert F. Wagner.

When he speaks over the air Senator Wagner wants absolute quiet, wants no interruption. In the Washington studios of the NBC, announcers have several methods of warning speakers their time is up. Senator Wagner will have none of these signs. He insists that when he is talking he must be permitted to finish his speech without signals of any kind. This caused considerable worry to announcers until he demonstrated his ability to stop within a few seconds of the time allotted him.

The Senator, however, has an excellent reason for avoiding any interruptions. "It is very confusing to have some one slip a note in front of me when I am talking," he says. "It diverts attention from my speech, and may cause me to lose my train of thought."

Wagner is one of the few men who orate over the radio. He speaks into a microphone in almost the same way he makes a speech before a meeting. Recently he admitted a case of mike fright. He took part in a program which was to be broadcast in German. He wrote his speech in English and had it translated into German. Though German-born he was a little afraid of his German.

WALTER WINCHELL On Broadway

Old Closet

Long ago, I tucked away
Things I thought I'd need some day.
Tarnished shoes with heels of gold,
Faded perfume, like an old,
Ineffectual caress
In a limp, forgotten dress.
And in a box behind a bonnet
I have a sad, uneven sonnet
That made a simple music of
Such words as love and dove and glove
And a note without a name.
It read: "Nobody is to blame
That loves will end and hearts will break."
It read: "Be happy for my sake.
We've had our penny, and we've spent it."

I wish I could recall who sent it.

Plays, Players and By-Play

Jack Simons, local manager of the Aldine, likely will find charges preferred against him that will endanger his membership in the Postcard Writers' Union. We just got a card from Jack. Of course that is all regular and in conformity with the usages of that noble organization. It contains a scene of a bathing beach—again all regular. The fatal omission is the orator's slogan—"Wish you were here." It states that Jack is filling in for a couple of weeks at Locke's Rochester Theater and that he will go from there to Syracuse. See the country while you're young, Jack, they'll have it fenced when you get old.

William Gillette, who made a tour in "Sherlock Holmes" last season, is ready to revive the same play again next season, providing the route is not made too strenuous for his health, according to report. He is past 70 years of age and is being induced to emerge again from retirement because he wants to help to give jobs to workless actors.

REDS' FIRST VISIT IN THREE MONTHS.

UNTIL THE COMING of the Reds to Pittsburgh today served as a reminder, the baseball fans of this district might well have been pardoned if they had started to wonder whether the National League circuit still included the city of Cincinnati. Dan Howley's troupe had not appeared here in such a long time that it almost needed a new introduction. The arrangement of their Pittsbrgh playing dates alone would be enough to stamp the 1931 schedule in the Heydler loop as the most freakish on record if it had not already qualified for the ranking from various other angles.

Dan Howley

Thirteen weeks have gone by since local gamegoers last had a look at the Reds. The latter have not played here since April 30, May 1 and 2. In the meantime every other club in the league has visited Forbes Field twice, the Giants, Cubs and Phillies having played eight games each in this city, the Robins seven, the Braves six and the Cardinals five. It surely spells something new and novel in schedule making when three months elapse between the appearances of one club.

THE REDS OF today are far different from the feeble outfit that everybody was kicking around during the early part of the season. Of their first 41 games they won only nine but since June 3 they have played .500 ball winning 28 games while losing the same number.

The lineup of the Howleys has been made over almost completely since they last played here. Of the seven regular positions, five are being filled by different players. Harvey Hendrick has succeeded Mickey Heath and Joe Stripp at first base; Clyde Beck has supplanted Francis Sigafoos at third; Leo Durocher instead of Horace Ford is at shortstop; Taylor Douthit has replaced Eddie Roush in centerfield, and Estel Crabtree has taken over Clifton Heathcote's post in right.

IN PITCHING HIS first shutout of the season and getting an even break for the Pirates in the series with the Giants Larry French gave one of the most brilliant exhibitions of slab work credited to any hurler in Pittsburgh this year.

The Buccaneer lefthander had perfect control not giving a base on balls, and held the McGrawites so completely at his mercy that of the last 24 batters up in the game only one got on the paths. Larry has beaten the Giants four times against one defeat this season. One of his victories was scored as a relief hurler. In his four full games against New York he allowed only six runs and 26 hits.

BY WINNING 12 out of 18 games the Pirates led all of the clubs of both divisions in the National League's East-West series just closed on western grounds. The West took the series, 40 games to 25. The Cardinals ranked next to the Rovers in the western group, with 10 victories and five defeats, while the Cubs and Reds each won nine and lost seven. Not an eastern club won as many games as it lost. The Braves won six and lost eight, the Giants won seven and lost 10, the Robins won seven and lost 11, and the Phillies won five and lost 11.*

Eddie Baker

EDDIE BAKER, former Pitt athlete who worked out with the Giants during their stay here, did not leave with the New York club last night and has not been signed to a contract. Dave White, another youngster who reported to the McGrawites here, departed with them for a further trial.

Dave Bancroft, in charge of the Giants during the illness of Manager John McGraw, spoke favorably of Baker as a prospect, but was unable to say whether or not a contract would be offered to Eddie later. If New York does not enter into negotiations with Baker he may start working out with the Pirates. One other National League club also is said to have shown an interest in him.

FORBES FIELD PATRONS were at a loss to recall any previous game in which a club batted exactly around from the top of the batting order to the bottom in each of two consecutive innings as the Pirates did in the first and second frames yesterday.

In each of those two rounds Lloyd Waner led off and Larry French made the third out. Another happening of a record nature was that Lloyd Waner led off on fewer than five times in the eight innings in which the Pirates batted equaling the mark set by Taylor Douthit with the Cardinals in 1927.

WHILE THE WEST was winning the series against the East in the National League, the East was cleaning up in the intersectional series in the American, 48 games to 25. The A's led the whole field with 17 victories and only two defeats, counting the game for which they made a special trip to Cleveland last Sunday. They dropped the first game of their home series to Detroit and won the next 17 there. The Senators won nine and lost six, the Yankees won 12 and lost seven, and the Red Sox won and lost 10. The Browns won seven and lost nine on the western side, the White Sox won seven and lost 11, the Indians won six and lost 13 and the Tigers won five and lost 15.*

THE FOLLOWING WAS received from Joseph E. Conway of 4332 Sherrod street: "Two incidents occurred during the last week which have caused me to write this letter. First, the catastrophe resulting from the burning of the Home for the Aged conducted by the Little Sisters of the Poor. Second the victory of Teddy Yarosz over the veteran Bucky Lawless.

"This may appear to be a jumbled affair, but what I thought about was this: To have Teddy Yarosz meet Jackie Fields or Young Jackie Thompson at Forbes Field this summer, a percentage of the gate to go toward erecting a new home for the inmates surviving the fire. I hope that plans for the same can be brought along."

A NEW RECORD may be set this year for number of victories pitched in a season in the Pacific Coast League. Frank Shellenback, Hollywood southpaw, has won 18 games while losing only one, and may pass the mark established by Jake Mayer in 1926 when the present Cub won 35 games against five lost for Vernon.

Counting 13 games won in succession in the latter part of the 1930 season Shellenback has captured 31 of his last 32 contests. His only defeat in that time was suffered by a 2-to-0 score at the hands of Phil Page, Seattle southpaw.

Mrs. Knute Rockne

ELMER LAYDEN, Duquesne University athletic director and head football coach, has started work in Hollywood with the cast of the Four Horsemen and eight other former Notre Dame gridders on the Universal moving picture to be entitled "The Spirit of Notre Dame," starring Lew Ayres. A notable addition to the cast is Mrs. Knute Rockne, widow of the late Irish coach, who consented to take part in the picture because it had been planned originally to feature her husband. She was accompanied to the coast by her 16-year-old son, Billy. Besides Layden, the former Notre Dame players now working on the picture are Harry Stuhldreher, Jimmy Crowley, Don Miller, Adam Walsh, Frank Carideo, John Law, Moon Mullins, Bucky O'Connor, Johnny O'Brien, Al Howard and Art McManmon.

A declaration of policy by Dr. William D. McClelland, new boxing commissioner for the western end of the state, at a dinner arranged for a meeting with local sports scribes featured last night in a fistic sense and in importance, stole the thunder from the boxing show staged at Hickey Park, Millvale.

The dinner, held in the Green Castle Inn, had by the arena broke up just in time to get the scribes to the park for the main bout put on following the first preliminary because of a threat of rain.

JONES STOPS ROSALES

In the feature event, Billy Jones, Negro light-heavyweight championship contender of Philadelphia and formerly of Pittsburgh, outclassed Roxy Rosales of Cleveland and won by a technical knockout when Referee Red Robinson hailed the battle after one minute of fighting in the fourth round with Rosales groggy on the ropes and bleeding from cuts on both eyes. The bell had saved him after a round of time from a right to the chin in the preceding session.

Jones scaled 170¼ pounds against 172½, for his opponent. Only a fair-sized crowd turned out for the show.

Jimmy Taylor of Cleveland, 153, won the judges' decision over Billy Brent, Negro, of the Hill, 151¼, by dint of a large early lead. Brent finished in much better condition, but his rally came too late.

WARNER BEATS KATKISH

Johnny Warner, of Clairton, 124¼, dropped Joey Katish, of Lawrenceville, 123¼, for a count of six with a right to the jaw in the opening round and out-

HENRI COCHET TO TURN PRO

PARIS, July 31 (AP).—Henri Cochet, the world's ranking amateur tennis player, today told his friends he planned to turn professional about the middle of September.

Cochet's announcement follows repeated rumors that he, of the French Davis Cup team intended to desert the ranks of the amateurs. He refused to announce his plans, however, until after France had retained possession of the coveted tennis trophy.

Rumors prevalent before and during the Davis Cup matches, said that Cochet would join with Bob Bill Tilden, of the United States, in an extended tennis tour. Tilden is expected in France the latter part of September.

Cochet now is at Letouquet participating in a tournament with Frank Shields, of the United States and others, and has several barnstorming exhibition engagements during the next six weeks.

(On request, sent with stamped addressed envelope, Ripley will send proofs and details of anything depicted by him in these cartoons.)

EXPLANATIONS OF RIPLEY'S CARTOONS OF YESTERDAY. THE DIAMOND FOUND IN A MAN'S STOMACH—The Sancy diamond is named after its original owner, Nicholas de Sancy, a Huguenot nobleman. At the request of King Henry III of France, he sent it to Switzerland as pledge for the payment of a body of mercenaries. The messenger bearing it was attacked and murdered, but he managed to swallow the stone. Sancy had an autopsy performed and found the gem in the dead man's stomach. At present the stone is the property of Viscount Astor.

HOKKAIDO WOMEN WEAR MOUSTACHES—The Ainus are descended from the original inhabitants of the Japanese archipelago. The men differ in appearance from the present day Japanese especially in being heavily bearded, the beards having a sacred symbolical significance. The women tattoo a luxurious moustache on their lips, and this ornament is considered the height of feminine charm in Tottoma Hokkaido, Japan, where a moustachioed Ainu matron very obligingly posed for my camera a few years ago.

DOEG, VINES IN FINAL AT SEABRIGHT

SEABRIGHT, N. J., July 31 (AP).—Californians held a virtual monopoly on contending places in the forty-fourth Seabright invitation tournament today as play went into the final stages.

Native Californians filled all the singles brackets with John Hope Doeg, national champion, who faced Ellsworth Vines of Pasadena for the men's title, and Mrs. Helen Wills Moody of San Francisco matched with Helen Jacobs of Berkeley for the women's crown.

In women's doubles California holds three of the four last places, the surviving team being those of Josephine Cruickshank of Santa Ana and Mrs. Marjorie Gladman Van Ryn, a native of California who lives in Philadelphia, and Mrs. Lawrence A. Harper of Oakland, and the Baroness Giacomo Levi of New York.

MEN'S FINAL TODAY

A notable exception to the California parade was the men's doubles division where the finalists were John Van Ryn of Philadelphia and Wilmer Allison of Austin, Tex., on the one hand and Gregory S. Mangin of Newark and Berkeley Bell of New York on the other.

The mixed doubles had reached only the semi-final stage. Today's program called for the men's singles final between Doeg and Vines, his conqueror in the Long Wood Bowl tournament recently, and the women's doubles final when Mrs. Van Ryn and Miss Cruickshank will play Mrs. Harper and the Baroness Levi. Tomorrow the tournament will close with the women's singles, men's double and mixed doubles finals.

MRS. JESSUP LOSES

Yesterday's play was featured by Mrs. Moody's hard-fought victory over the Wilmington Del., veteran Mrs. Marion Zinderstein Jessup, 6-4, 6-3, after Mrs. Jessup had gained a lead in each set. Miss Jacobs eliminated the No. 1 ranking player, Mrs. Harper, 8-6, 4-6, 6-0 default. Mrs. Harper, wilted under the heat and the grueling match and had to quit.

TONY CANZONERI TO MEET KEED IN TITLE GO

NEW YORK, July 31.—Tony Canzoneri, of Brooklyn, world lightweight and junior welterweight champion, has signed a contract with Madison Square Garden to defend his titles in a 15-round bout against Kid Chocolate, of Cuba, at the Polo Grounds, September 10.

Chocolate, who recently won the world junior lightweight crown from Benny Bass, of Philadelphia, has not signed for the fight, but he and his manager are expected to reach an agreement with the Garden soon.

Abandoning a match between Tommy Loughran and Jack Sharkey in August, James J. Johnston has announced a definite date for a 15-round match between Sharkey and Primo Carnera, the giant Balkan. They will meet at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, in September 23. In the event the Madison Square Garden Corporation blocks Carnera again, as it did in June, Loughran will be substituted.

Large Field Slated In Summit Event

UNIONTOWN, Pa., July 31.—A large field will play at the Summit Golf Club, in the clouds on top of Mt. Summit, near here, tomorrow for the right to be partners to Johnny Farrell and Gene Sarazen, former national open champions one week later, in a match over the same course.

BOBBY JONES' Lessons in Golf

By Robt. T. Jones, Jr.

U. S. Amateur Champion and Former U. S. and British Open and British Amateur Titleholder

Among golfers there probably is more conversation about the rhythm of the swing and less real understanding of what it by means, than in the case with any other single feature of the stroke. We all recognize the need for it and most of us can tell when we have it. The trouble comes when we find the rhythm missing and set out to find a way to supply it.

Bobby Jones

The primary consideration in developing a rhythmical swing is to let the clubhead swing freely. I have found that it helps a lot to remember that it is, after all, the head of the club which does the striking and that the shaft is only a means of transmitting motion. In other words, I like to think in these terms:

That I am not striking the ball with the club when I hold in my hands, but that the shaft which I am holding is simply a means by which I get the clubhead to moving with its maximum velocity by the time it contacts the ball.

FAST STROKE HANDICAP

I believe that it is the absence of some conception of this kind which causes the duffer to swing too fast and which gives him to snatch the club down before he has completed his backswing. We see so many amateur golfers and a good many who are considerably above the average who are guilty of this mistake. Our game the impression from watching them that they are afraid that they cannot get the clubhead up to speed by the time it reaches the ball and hence they begin their hitting effort at the very top of the swing.

It is to avoid or correct this tendency to snatch the club down that I have always insisted upon an ample backswing. Naturally it requires a good bit of effort to change the direction of the stroke at the top if the change is made very suddenly, but if the club is allowed to reach its topmost position and then is started down in a leisurely manner, giving ample time and length for it to reach its maximum speed by the time it strikes the ball, then the acceleration during the first part of the down stroke can be more gradual and more comfortably accomplished.

PAUSE AT TOP OF SWING

I think that it will be observed in the methods of almost every first-class player that there is a slight pause, barely perceptible of course, at the top of the swing. The function of the backswing is only to get the player into position to hit, and I think that in order to take full advantage of this position the player must pause himself for a brief instant before he starts the club in the other direction.

A fast or hurried backswing is one of the things which upsets this plan. The player who takes his club up rapidly is not likely to hesitate before bringing it down, nor is he likely to give himself time to complete his backswing before he starts down. I like to think of a swing as flowing back, hesitating an instant and then flowing again from the top into the more rapid motion of the hitting area. In other words, in the down stroke the velocity of the clubhead should go from zero at the top of the swing to a maximum at the impact and since this is to be accomplished with a minimum of effort the acceleration at the beginning until the clubhead gains some speed should be gradual. If the backswing is long enough the player will have plenty of time to do his hitting [illegible]

JACK REDMOND MEETS LAZAR IN FINAL

Parks Champions

MEN'S SINGLES
WOMEN'S SINGLES

By PAUL G. SULLIVAN

Al McCorkle and Mildred Klages, North Side stars, last night braved the rain to win the title class of the second annual Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph-Pittsburgh Public Parks tennis championship.

McCorkle, dark-horse driver of the Observatory area representative, set final session foes Eddie Plunkett, veteran chopper, 6-3, 6-1, 6-4, to annex the gold medallion, symbolic of Northside's tennis supremacy. While Miss Klages, by virtue of an impressive 6-0, 6-2 decision over Marjorie Arle, retained possession of the West Park women's crown acquired by her through a triumph over the same rival a year ago.

Four of the down masculine and feminine individual parks championships have not been decided. Ruth Staley and Jeannette Miller having acceded unopposed to last year's honors at Riverview and Flitz respectively.

McCorkle compelled to fight up from the rut in two of his three sets with Plunkett, the latter enjoying 3-0 advantage in opening one and 4-2 margin with service up in stanza three. Plunkett, however, lacked the wallop to ram home the markers when he needed them most.

REDMOND DEFENDS TITLE

In Dr. John O'Loughlin's Highland Park events were pushed to the finale in which Jack Redmond, southpaw slasher, will defend his 1930 throne against Albert Lazar, Harvard product, at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon, a tilt looming as one of the finest of the tournament.

Redmond ran afoul of slight difficulty in accounting for Carl Luna, 6-3, 6-2, 6-1, in the semi-finals, but Lazar was never in serious danger in eliminating Erwin Beck, 6-1, 13-11, 2-6, 6-3.

In the women's division at Highland, Dorothy Miller, a youngster with a fine forehand, trounced aside Rose Bollinger and Frances Fulton by identical scores of 6-4, 6-2 to forge to the gold medal round. Nan's Millsaps attained the same goal without effort through default of Alma Washington and Wil Ercoline. Miss Miller for ultimate laurels a half hour prior to the Redmond-Lazar affair.

Miss Klages will bear watching at Flick next week in the inter-park elimination series for the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph public parks challenge cups and trips to the national public parks championships at Detroit, August 17 and ensuing days, as Steel City representatives in the nation-wide municipal tilting.

Karl Braden, 1930 West men's singles finalist, raised hammers a path to the final at the expense of Ray Cooper, 6-3, 6-2, 6-0. He drove wallops from the baseline throughout the initial part of several polished off matters in the third by slamming the mesh for a succession of brilliant kills.

Art Graham outraided Ed Grant, 6-2, 6-4, in the third and upper right to eliminate Ralph Bertsch in the upper semi-final of 3 o'clock tonight.

ROSEN SPRINGS UPSET

Jack Rosen, dogged junior performer, sprang an outstanding Olympia reversal by shading A. semi-final verdict over Ward Murphy, second seeded satellite of the Hilltop, 6-3, 7-5, 9-7. In the other Olympia semi-final, Bill Creighton was up a set on Emanuel Binder, South Hillman, 6-3, when dusk intervened. The two rolled pins at 10 a. m. today with Creighton emerging two more sets to win, 6-3, 6-0, 6-1.

Miss Jean Arthurger inaugurated the defense of her Pittsburgh parks crown by beating through Mildred Cartwright in straight sets. The victory places Miss Arthurger in the Olympia women's finals in which she will meet Miss Caroline Kurtz, who advanced after a hotly contested fray with Mary Creighton, 6-1, 6-0.

Olympia finals in both the men's and the women's events will be deferred until tomorrow afternoon.

LOMASK ELIMINATED

Only TRUTHFUL TIRE ADVERTISING WINS!

WHEN we advertised the fact that Firestone was furnishing us complete lines of Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires that not only met the price but beat the quality and construction of every grade of special brand tires sold by mail order houses and others, the mail order houses made vigorous protests to Better Business Bureaus and made demands upon newspapers not to accept Firestone or our advertising.

We cannot blame them for they did not want car owners to know that they could get, at no more cost, a better tire made by a leading manufacturer, bearing his name and guarantee plus our guarantee and our service.

When car owners awakened to this fact, they came to us, compared the sections we had cut from Firestone Tires and special brand mail order tires, and were astounded at the Extra Values we were giving.

As a result, our business and that of other Firestone Dealers throughout the country, increased so fast that it has been necessary for Firestone to run their factories twenty-four hours a day and Firestone sold more tires in April, May and June than in any like period in the history of the company.

In our advertising we do not make comparisons involving laboratory tests which you cannot verify except in a laboratory—neither do we make comparisons of construction or price based on misleading classifications such as first line tire, second line tire, or third line tire*—we do not make comparisons to confuse and mislead you as to actual values and service—we only make statements and comparisons that you can verify for yourself in our store before you purchase the tire.

Come in today and get the greater safety, extra quality and extra values found only in Firestone Tires.

*When the National Better Business Bureau realized that their Bulletin No. 634 was being taken advantage of by some advertisers they issued a Bulletin dated July 10th as follows:

"In our Bulletin No. 634 entitled 'Definitions of Terms Used in the Tire Industry' we published definitions of First Line—Second Line—Third Line—Heavy Duty and Super Heavy Duty Tires.

"Our definitions pointed out, 'Although each manufacturer's or distributor's first line tire may represent his best standard size 4 or 6 ply tire, there is not necessarily any equality of competitive first line tires as to materials, workmanship or price.' This interpretation also applies to all lines of tires.

"We therefore recommend that advertising to the consumer shall avoid the use of these terms for the purpose of comparing competitive products."

*A "Special Brand" Tire is made by a manufacturer for distributors such as Mail Order houses, oil companies and others, under a name that does not identify the tire manufacturer to the public, usually because he builds his "best quality" tires under his own name. Firestone puts his name on every tire he makes.

Double Guarantee—Every tire manufactured by Firestone bears the name Firestone and carries Firestone's unlimited guarantee and ours. You are doubly protected.

punched him throughout their six-round melee to win handily, while, in the opener, George Guba of Clairton, 132½, substituting at short notice for Doc Asto of Johnstown, won over A. Van Guta of Swissvale, 129½, making his professional debut.

Eddie Kennedy alternated with Red Robinson as referee and the judges were Frank Hogel and Freddie Lux, with Steve Russell and Norman Berlanti, the timers. Harry Klaer the announcer and Dr. J. W. McMeans the commission physician.

Commissioner McClelland at his talk at the dinner said he planned to conduct his office with the utmost efficiency and was prepared to work hand in hand with boxing and wrestling promoters in his district. He stressed that he talked to fair players and referees and worked out a uniform system of scoring bouts which has resulted in fewer split decisions and impressed upon them that they must deliver good work or make room for other officials.

TO PROTECT PUBLIC

To protect the public Dr. McClelland says he will demand that all close bouts be held over for appeal before announcing them. Bakers and managers and promoters will receive equal consideration on any disputes and the meetings will be at open book with newspapermen invited to attend the hearings. Any boxer taken in the ring and who is immediately announced is through the local office. Wrestling will be permitted if responsible promoters will undertake to handle the sport and win the confidence of the public.

The new commissioner made a distinct impression with his frank discussion of his problems and his well-laid plans for the future and appears to be destined for a successful year.

Bethlehem Report Gives List Higher Tendency, But Heaviness Appears

NEW YORK, July 31—(AP.)—The stock market went into a slow decline today, ending July at the lowest levels of the month, but still several points above the bear market lows reached early June.

The somewhat more favorable than expected earnings of Bethlehem Steel gave the market an irregularly higher tendency in the first few minutes of trading but heaviness soon spread throughout much of the list and several shares registered losses of 2 to 6 points by early afternoon.

Bethlehem pushed up 1½ points at the start and retained part of its gain.

The fact that Bethlehem was able to show earnings of $1.45 a preferred share for the second quarter, when United States Steel earned only 6 cents a share on its preferred, was rather favorably regarded. National Steel, one of the smaller units in the industry, reported $1.60 a common share and has the distinction of being the only prominent steel company to earn its common dividend. The steel industry as a whole, however, seems to have become reconciled to a rather gloomy outlook for the remainder of the year.

The tobacco shares were sold in response to the Department of Justice investigation of the recent increase in cigaret prices.

The rails were generally heavy and in the bond market the carrier issues were again inclined to sag.

Wall Street is watching the efforts of Germany to reopen her banks with considerable interest. The sale of a large issue of shares of the suspended Darmstaedter Bank is expected to permit reopening of that institution, along with others.

Sterling exchange again declined today, failing to hold the advance which greeted the further increase in the Bank of England's discount rate. It still hugs close the gold point, however.

CIGARET STAMP REVENUE OFF

WASHINGTON, July 31 (AP.)—Preliminary figures on stamp sales by Internal Revenue collectors in the last fiscal year ended June 30, 1931, show that production of cigarets fell off 303,161,317 and cigars 641,788,220.

While no official reason was given for the decreases, it was pointed out at the Treasury today that business depressions usually were followed by a slump in the output of these articles.

The year's cigaret production was placed at 119,632,271,950, as compared with 119,935,433,267 for the previous year and 119,978,898,493 for the 1928-29 fiscal period.

Stamp sales were made in June for 11,508,062,422 cigarets, a decline of 242,000,000, as compared with the same month last year.

Cigar production for the year was placed at 5,686,647,632, as compared with 6,328,465,852 for 1929-30 and 6,548,676,637 for 1928-29.

In June, cigar production decreased approximately 2,000,000 to a total of 517,513,659.

Northwest Drought Relieved by Rain

MINNEAPOLIS, July 31.—Rain last night fell over nearly all of Minnesota and North Dakota and parts of Montana, with only a slight fall in South Dakota parts of Central and North Central Minnesota received 1½ to 2 inches of rain, while North Dakota was well soaked with 1 to 1½ inches in many sections.

While the rains are too late to revive the crop in burnt out areas, they will improve the livestock situation and provide some late pasturage and also will greatly benefit corn which had begun to deteriorate generally.

Shell to Maintain Present Salaries

SANTA BARBARA, July 31.—Employe delegates and officials of the Shell Oil Company declared that for the coming year no changes in salary or company policies would be made.

The decision probably will influence other oil companies in maintaining present wage scales since in the past many companies have waited until after the annual Shell conference to announce policies regarding wages.

Air Brake Dividend Safe, Says A. L. Humphrey

By GEORGE H. SNYDER

NO CHANGE IS PLANNED in the dividend rate of the Westinghouse Air Brake Company. Such assurance of this policy was given by A. L. Humphrey, president of the company, in a statement issued today.

Mr. Humphrey

Mr. Humphrey referred to his statement made at the annual meeting of stockholders on April 21, in which he gave assurance that the present $2 annual dividend rate would be maintained. He declared yesterday that there has been no reason to change this policy up to the present time.

"Little change has been shown in the company's operations most business recently. A slight improvement has been recorded in demand for railway equipment. Sales of the Union Switch and Signal Company, a subsidiary, have been fairly active, although they have not been as large as a year ago, when this company's business was exceptionally busy.

"Westinghouse Air Brake failed to cover dividend requirements for the first half of 1931 by 39 cents a share, but an exceptionally strong financial position, and the fact that there are no securities senior to the common stock, put it in a position to dip into surplus. While many leading corporations have accumulated large cash reserves, few of them have such a large proportion of cash and marketable securities as Westinghouse Air Brake.

Earnings Decline

EARNINGS HAVE DECLINED this year, but the company has taken a view of the condition of general business, and the fact that the railroads have indulged in a minimum expansion of equipment lately. While Westinghouse Air Brake has received new large orders outside of the $1,000,000 contract for equipment for electric locomotives for the Pennsylvania Railroad, the company has a fairly steady volume of replacement business.

The income account has made the carriers hesitant about placing orders, but many roads still retain their interest in signal installations which offer an opportunity for economical operation."

Net for Six Months

IN THE SECOND QUARTER of 1930 net profit was $3,072,241, which was equivalent to 30 cents a share on 3,172,200 shares of capital stock. This was only slightly less than $3,130,329, or 31 cents a share, reported for the first quarter, but it was substantially less than $1,827,439, or 57 cents a share, in the second quarter of 1930.

For the first half of 1931 net profit was $1,953,770, or 61 cents a share, compared with net of $4,014,909, or $1.26 a share, a year ago.

In recent years the earnings of Westinghouse Air Brake have been fairly steady. In the full year of 1930 net was equivalent to $2.05 a share, compared with $2.78 a share in 1929, with $2.05 a share in 1928 and with $2.69 a share in 1927.

Cash Position Strong

THE COMPANY IS IN AN EXCELLENT financial position. It has no preferred stock or funded debt. Current assets of $46,033,488 at the close of 1930 were 12.2 times current liabilities. Cash of $8,768,640 was more than twice all current liabilities of $3,789,773. In addition the company had $20,452,984 in United States and other marketable securities which had a market value in excess of cost. Stocks and bonds in affiliated companies amounting to $8,213,146 were not included among the current assets.

At the close of 1930 the stock had a book value of $19.64 a share. Of this, net current assets accounted for $13.33 a share. Cash and marketable securities alone amounted to $7.21 a share. Obviously it will be no severe burden for the company to dip into surplus for part of its $2 annual dividend requirement.

Current assets amounted to 65.7 per cent of total assets of $70,061,903. Patents, which were carried at $2,450,001 in 1926 were written down to $1 in 1929.

New Gas Acreage Discovered in New York

ELMIRA, N. Y., July 31. A new gas field was opened yesterday when a well was brought in on the farm of State Assemblyman G. Archie Turner in the town of Veteran, nine miles northeast of Elmira.

A flow of 1,500,000 cubic feet a day was reached at a depth of 1,300 feet. Jim Van Gerilt, geologist, said the well was most unusual in that the gas-producing sands were in a new formation which has not been found in any of the recently developed fields in Northern Pennsylvania and the southern tier.

The nearest productive field is the Wayne-Tyrone-Dundee field, 20 miles to the northeast of the Turner farm.

Scrub Woman Warns Kitty Not to Visit Forrest

CHAPTER XXXI

"If it's one I haven't heard, let me hear it," Fanny Dutton said, with an attempt at a girlish giggle, as she joined Forrest and myself in the corner of the great marble foyer.

I knew well enough that Fanny was jealous and suspicious. That was why she rushed over the moment she saw us talking privately together.

"There isn't any off-color story going the rounds that you haven't heard, Fanny," Forrest said with a touch of impatience, "not one that Kaye has brought so far as I know."

"I hope I'm not as prudish as all that," I protested. "I like a jolly story now and then."

"Then what is the pay?" Fanny couldn't hide her jealousy by this time. "Are you two planning to run the mill or something?"

"We are planning another party for next week," Forrest told her, giving me a warning glance.

"Oh, two and he," Fanny asked pointedly.

Forrest chuckled at her and patted Fanny's shoulder.

"A score of us always include you my dear," he said.

Instantly Fanny changed. She almost purred in her pleasure. She reminded me of a cat soft and affectionate one moment, snarling and spitting the next.

FANNY LINGLES

Forrest started to take me to his car.

The poor old scrub woman's eyes haunted me. She hadn't taken her platters from me and she seemed to be frightened or worried.

Fanny hung back in the foyer. That didn't bother me in the least. She wanted a goodnight word with Forrest, but I understood all about it. For old times' sake he was kind to her, but he hadn't brought her any Bohemian jewelry and he didn't attract such interesting parties with her as he did with me.

"Don't fail me—don't disappoint me, dearest," Forrest whispered as he helped me into his car. He always left me home from his parties in his car, as some guests usually remained after I left, and he couldn't ride home with me.

"Don't worry, Forrest," I answered. "I'm as anxious to see what you brought me as a kid at Christmas Eve, only I can't stay more than a few minutes."

"That's all right, and Kayto will be there for chaperone," he assured me with a laugh. Kayto was his Jap boy.

I wanted to ask Viola if she knew anything about Bohemian jewels when I got home, but she was sleeping so soundly that I didn't have the heart to waken her.

We had a dash of excitement next day. Molly Parsons came back to Miers' to see if she could get to work again.

Molly had been my first chum back in the days when I left school and started to work in Hunter's department store. I had secured the job for her with Mrs. Miers' modeling.

MOLLY HOMELESS

She didn't have a chance to get back her job, not but what Mrs. Miers had forgotten the "if" but because she hadn't the looks or figure for the work.

"It's too bad, dearie," Mrs. Miers told her, "but we are laying off some girls instead of hiring. This is the dull season." Molly's eyes filled with tears and she swayed as she turned to go. I ran to her and made her sit down. I brought her some water and left her long enough to tell Mrs. Miers that I was going home with her and stop on the way at a restaurant.

"She's half starved, that's her real trouble," I said.

"Don't waste too much pity on her. I'm afraid she's one bad girl," Mrs. Miers said.

"Bad girls get hungry," I said.

She had quit Mrs. Miers in a huff, declaring that she didn't have to work. May Boyden, who had once wanted to be my "sugar daddy" and who learned readily enough that I wasn't after "sugar daddies," became friends with Molly. That was the last I had seen of her, except occasionally at the first, when she would be out with the gay old mayor.

But what a different Molly it was this time.

Her good looks had departed and she was thin and pale.

I told Molly I would go home with her and we went out, but once outside the door she began to cry.

"My folks won't have me at home and I was locked out of my room. I haven't any more home than an alley cat," she whimpered.

I took her into a restaurant under pretext of a place to talk. Poor Molly got away with a steak and admitted that she had been half starved.

"What happened?" I asked.

"The same thing that will happen to you all in good time. I was a fool and just played around too much," she confessed.

"It wasn't because you played around but because you were a fool, Molly."

"Don't try to bluff me—Oh, Katie, never mind what I say. I'll find a job today—"

FEIGNS ILLNESS

She got up to hide her tears. I took her up to my apartment and got Mrs. Neilson, the janitor's wife, to take care of her, give her a cot in the little basement spare room and feed her. I agreed to pay. That would give her a chance to get on her feet and find work. I left a little money with her and beat it back to work.

"You ain't cracked no smile for hours," Mrs. Miers said to me, that afternoon. "I don't worry so much about Molly. It's a good thing it happened—it makes other girls think what."

"That doesn't change the fact that the poor girl is up against it," I said.

"Sure, but yet it don't change the fact that girls who think there's nothing in life but playing and sporting always gets up against it—not that I have to preach to you, Katie—you got sense," she finished hurriedly.

I had other things to think of, more pleasing things. The jewelry Forrest was to give me that night would be wonderful. I knew, because while Forrest wasn't forever making presents, the things he had given me were all beautiful and expensive.

Chubb called for me that night and Denny Thurston came along to go with Viola.

Susie Lawlor was going to spread herself. There was to be a dinner, a box for the ten of us to crowd into for the last half of a musical comedy and then a big night of it at an uptown club.

I had my plans all made and during the dinner I told Chubb that I almost wished I had stayed at home because of a headache that wouldn't seem to go away.

Chubb was sympathetic. He suggested that perhaps after the dinner I could go.

I managed to whisper to Susie while we were getting into the box at the theater that I had a headache. I did so that when it came time for me to be excused from the party it would seem quite natural.

I wondered if anyone noticed how I kept stealing a glance at the clock, but I was getting anxious. I wouldn't disappoint Forrest or keep him waiting and I was on pins and needles in my anxiety to see what he had brought me from Europe.

A WARNING

It was about ten minutes of twelve when I had a chance to ask Susie to excuse me because my headache was much worse and I didn't want to be sick at her party.

Chubb was all sympathy. I wouldn't let him take me home, as he offered.

"It's frightfully early, Chubb, old dear," I said, "so just tuck me in a taxi and go back to the fun."

I think Chubb preferred it that way because he was enjoying the show and especially the wine.

As soon as the taxi was on its way I told the chauffeur that I had changed my mind and was going to another place. I gave him the address.

As I hurried through the big empty foyer I thought it was empty. I was startled when someone stepped out from the alcove by Forrest's private elevator.

It was the old scrub woman. I wondered why she was there so early. She usually came about 3 in the morning.

I smiled and said, "My, but you are early."

"I came early to see you," she said eagerly.

"To see me?"

The way she looked at me made me feel nervous and creepy.

"Yes, to see you—you mustn't go up to that man's apartment!"

"Nonsense—"

"No, no—you mustn't go up there!" There was actually a sob in her throat as she spoke the warning words.

(Does Kitty heed the scrub woman's strange warning? Read tomorrow's exciting installment).

DAILY SHORT STORY

Something Funny

(All names of characters in this story are fictitious.)

Author's Wife Supplies Plot For Short Story

Baxter was somewhat winded.

He had been helping Junior retrieve his toy airplane, which involved running all around the back yard some two score times.

Junior having gone in to get his mid-forenoon luncheon, Baxter lighted his pipe, leaned against the cushions on the glider hammock in the shade and dreamily viewed the bed of iris.

This was comfort!

This was the life!

There were some robins hopping about. A yellow butterfly swayed on the first of the little climbing roses—it was simply great. Some day Baxter thought he would build a little one-room place out there and it would become famous as the place where one William H. Baxter, himself, had written the Great American Novel.

Ideas were coming easily, he could almost plot the thing right there, he—

"William!"

Baxter snuggled down closer amongst the hammock cushions and lay quite still.

"Oh, William—telephone!" Mrs. Baxter's voice was really pleasant, but it did not sound so dulcet to him right then.

All right, Nell.

TAKES ORDERS

He slid out of the hammock, crossed the yard, went through the back hall to the front hall, skidded on Junior's marbles and reached the telephone.

"Baxter speaking—Oh, hello, Chief—what's up, did you say?"

Junior's sister, Luella, two years older than Junior, shrilled down from the head of the stairs.

"Mam-ma! Oh, Mamma!"

"Hush, honey. Papa's telephoning—no, no, Chief, I wasn't calling you, honey, what the huh? I was trying to make one of my kids keep quiet, sir."

"Mam-MA! Oh, MAMMA! Do I have to change my dress for the old music teacher?"

Luella quiet. Papa's telephoning, what's that, Chief?"

"Chief" in the person of grouchy Godfrey Merrill, editor of the Sunday Blaze, began to tell Baxter what was what.

"Where's your copy?" he demanded.

"In Chief, four days ago."

"That was for the seventh of next month. I've got to have it also for the fourteenth, you know, Baxter, we have to keep six weeks ahead."

"Six? Why now, Chief, listen, I thought it was five."

Everyone was notified anyway get that half page in by tomorrow night, and say, sparkle it up a little more, get more human stuff into it, make it funny. (My Quips and Quirks section isn't supposed to be an undertaker's gazette, you know.)

"Sure, Chief, I got you."

"In tomorrow night, Baxter—sure fire."

Sure, Chief."

Baxter hung up the receiver and groaned.

"What is it, Will?" Mrs. Baxter asked.

Thought I was going to have three days and now I've got to do a half-page for three thousand years from now."

"Don't be silly, Will."

"Six weeks—well, I'll run up and try and get it off my chest."

"What is it to be about this time, Will?"

Baxter groaned again and shook his head.

"You tell me. I need suggestions."

"But don't you know?"

"If I did I'd be pounding the old keys. Got any ideas?"

"You laugh every time I suggest anything. Say, how about an article on making a lily pool?"

"Now I ask you, Nell, is that funny?"

"Kind of sort of cute and cheerful."

"The Chief distinctly said he wanted something funny."

"All right, dear, run up and write it, I'll—"

The front screen door opened and a shrill voice said, "I'm coming right in, Mrs. Baxter, is Luella ready? Oh, good morning, Mr. Baxter, lovely morning, isn't it?"

MUSIC TEACHER ARRIVES

Lovely—he answered, but the inflection was one of sarcasm.

"Nell, will you—"

"Luella, dear, here's Miss Potts, come right down and have your music lesson."

"Yes, mamma, say, there's only the guest towel, may I use that?"

"Nell, will you—"

"Yes, yes, dear, and hurry, don't keep Miss Potts waiting, because a lot of other girls are anxious for their music lessons today."

"Ha, ha, mamma, horse-feathers," shrilled Luella, thus expressing her opinion of the pleasures of a music lesson.

"Nell, will you—"

"Luella Baxter, shall mamma come up?"

"Comin', mamma."

"You'd better. What did you say, Will?"

"I didn't get a chance to say it, never mind."

He passed Luella on his way up to his den in the room at the front end of the upper hall, he rolled paper into his typewriter and wrote at the top: "Baxter Quips and Quirks section for Ju 14."

"Something funny, make it sparkle—humph," he muttered.

He was thinking industriously, he thought of six different subjects in as many seconds and cast them all out of his mind, for they had been done oft before.

He straightened up. There might be something funny in a burlesque scientific report of the under-ice trip to be made to the Arctic, it seemed like a swell idea—he would start it with—

"Ta-tum-tum-tum, ta-tum-tum-tummity—ta tum."

"Ta-tum-tumity—ta tum."

"Oh damn!" growled Baxter, "she got me doing it—will the child ever learn musical time—now what the devil was that idea—something about ice—funny names for ice cream? No—yes, darned if I know, but that's not a bad idea, funny names for fountain drinks. I'll start.

"Er—Will give me $3 for the milk bill man, he's here," said Mrs. Baxter, as she entered.

CHANGES MIND

Baxter handed her the money and she silently withdrew and closed the door. But the front windows were open and the sound from below came up. Miss Potts has a razor-blade voice, it sure cut the air.

"No, dearie, it's like this—tum-ta-tummity—tum-ta-tummity, see?"

"Tum-ta-tummity, for Pete's sake," Baxter growled. He had a habit of talking to himself when in the throes of composition. "Let's see, when Nell came about the milk bill collector what was well I hope I'm a pop-eyed Chinaman if I haven't forgotten what I started to write. Nell had to butt in about that now, there's an idea—something about bill collectors is funny."

He stopped and shook his head. "It's been done before, some 70 times, let's see, if I can finish this on time we'll get away to the shore for a dip before dark, here's the idea, a screed about the dippy bathing suits this year—something about all kaleidoscopes being put out of business by beach pajamas—and ah, red pajamas and the village fire chief rings an alarm and—"

"Whoosh!"

"Ouch!"

The "whoosh" was done by Junior's toy airplane.

The "ouch" was Baxter's remark when it stalled through the window and, scratching his ultra high forehead, tangled in his scanty locks.

Junior yelled for his father to give it back to him at once.

Then Junior yelled because in sending it back it lodged in the catalpa tree. Baxter came down and extricated it.

Baxter went back and tried to figure out something funny about the time when the man who used an automobile instead of an airplane would be laughed at as a hick.

Sweet tinkling sounds came from below, sounds that made Baxter shudder, for it was that ancient musical composition called "Edelweiss."

Baxter glowered and waited.

Then he got started merrily on a paragraph about reclaimed farms when Mrs. Baxter came in again.

"What shall I tell him, Will?"

"Tell who what?"

LOCATES DICTIONARY

"The man to paint the car, what color, what shall I tell him?"

"Tell him where to go—make it yellow with pink spots or anything, for Pete's sake—"

"Please, Will, please!"

Baxter went down and talked for 15 minutes with his wife and the man and they came to the conclusion that black was a very nice color for a car.

Then he went back and started to write something about repossessed cars, but it didn't seem funny to him. He simply had to know how to spell a word and reached for his dictionary. It wasn't there.

After a wild search he found it on the back porch where Luella was using it to press flowers.

Baxter paced the yard and smoked and fumed and when Mrs. Baxter came out he shook his head at her.

"Go away, beloved wife of my bosom, or I'll tear my hair and scream. I'm trying to think of something funny to write and there isn't one single solitary subject on earth that is funny that hasn't been done to death, not a single solitary blessed—go in, Nell, and take the kids in. I'm going to do a little fancy cussin'."

"Now, Will, why don't you write about a family man having a rush call to write something funny and have him go through what you've just been through and—"

Baxter grabbed his wife and kissed her.

Then he ran up to his den and wrote this thing.

A Grand Jury Matter

County Commissioner McGovern Makes a Serious Charge Against His Colleagues

Republican Allegheny County Commissioner C. C. McGovern's statement concerning his candidacy for a third term is a matter which should be investigated by the grand jury.
